

COLD REVER REGGERS BROKEN

Twenty Degrees Below Zero
in Albuquerque Early Tuesday Morning.

SNOWFALL IN THE MOUNTAINS HEAVY

Albuquerque, N. M., Dec. 26.—At 7 o'clock this morning the thermometer stood 15 degrees below zero and at 4 o'clock this morning it was 20 below.

The storm which struck this city at daylight Christmas morning probably broke all records for this section in the past 20 years. The ground was covered with snow to a depth of three inches and the snow remains on the ground today.

Sleighbearing in Albuquerque.
For the first time on Christmas day in many years there was sleighbearing in Albuquerque, where usually the sun is warm and the temperature hanging between 60 and 70 degrees above.

Kitchen Ranges Explode.
At noon today the temperature was 25 above and rising but the local forecast is for colder weather tonight. The cold snap froze many water pipes in the city and several kitchen ranges with hot water attachments exploded this morning, but no one was injured beyond minor burns.

Heavy Snow in Mountains.
Reports from the mountains are that the heaviest snows for many winters fell during the past 24 hours. Wild game has been driven from the hills to the mesas and hunting is excellent.

Cold at Laramie.
Laramie, Wyo., Dec. 26.—Yesterday was one of the uniformly coldest Christmas days in many years. The maximum temperature for the day was 4 degrees below; the minimum temperature Sunday night being 20 below. Today the weather is some warmer.

Six Below at Santa Fe.
Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 26.—The fifth coldest wave of the winter thus far struck Santa Fe last night and the weather bureau recorded a minimum of six degrees below. Thus far this has been the coldest winter Santa Fe has experienced in a decade, and scarcely a day in November and December reached the average temperature of the past 40 years.

Frost Threatening
CALIFORNIA ORANGES
San Bernardino, Cal., Dec. 26.—At midnight indicated in heavy frost from frost in the orange districts of San Bernardino and Riverside counties. Reports from districts in the south end of San Bernardino county, bordering on San Bernardino county, indicate that the situation is the same. The thermometer reached 36 degrees at midnight and dropped lower later on.

Smudge Saves Oranges.
San Bernardino, Cal., Dec. 26.—Although the thermometer registered as low as 22 degrees above zero last night, the coldest winter Santa Fe has experienced in a decade, and scarcely a day in November and December reached the average temperature of the past 40 years.

THIN SHEET OF ICE
COVERS RIO GRANDE
The Rio Grande was covered with a thin coat of ice Tuesday morning as a result of the cold weather. The ice did not remain long in the river in the morning, though, as the sun soon melted it and it floated away.

STEEL TRUST GIVEN
EXTENSION OF TIME
Trenton, N. J., Dec. 26.—United States district attorney Vreeland, in the United States circuit court, announced today a further extension of time had been granted for the filing of answers in the suit of the United States Steel corporation. The time was extended from the first Monday in January to February 1, 1912.

MUTINY BREAKS OUT
IN ST. PETERSBURG
London, England, Dec. 26.—A news agency dispatch from St. Petersburg reports that a mutiny has broken out at the naval ordnance yard. Mutineers are quelling the disorder have been taken by the government. The mutineers have been wounded by the troops sent to suppress the insubordination.

RAISE INSURANCE RATE
TO HELP OUT THE COMPANIES
Austin, Tex., Dec. 26.—From letters and communications received by the department of insurance and banking and the state insurance board, it is evident that many insurers of property in the state are apparently at a loss to know why there has been an increase in insurance rates in the state during the past several months. The reason as given by the state insurance board is that the old rates were too low and the companies were losing money, and the board believes that the companies are entitled to a return on the capital invested.

UNKNOWN MARK KILLED
BY TRAIN IN DEMING
Deming, N. M., Dec. 26.—A man apparently 35 years old, weighing about 190 pounds and having in his pocket a business card reading "C. Moise, Kansas City Journal, Kansas City, Mo.," also a card of the Los Angeles Typographical union No. 174, was killed in Deming last night about 8 o'clock.

He is believed to have fallen down between the cars of an eastbound freight train as it was leaving the Deming yards. T. G. Stevenson, brakeman, saw a man walking on the top of the train, four cars in front of him, when he suddenly disappeared. When the train was stopped, the man was found on the track horribly mangled.

The coroner's jury found that the man came to his death by accident. Jas. W. Dymond was foreman. The deceased had $10.95 in money on his person in addition to the cards, and also a registry receipt, No. 31298.

WAS COMING TO EL PASO.
The dead man was coming to El Paso, evidently, for mail addressed to him reached here Tuesday and in the lot was a Christmas package.

MARSH POSTS IN WEST WILBE ABANDONED

Fort Wingate Is Cited as an Example of Enormous
Cost of Small Garrisons.

NOT NEEDED, THE OFFICIALS ASSERT

Washington, D. C., Dec. 26.—War department officials are now at work in pursuance of a resolution passed in the house of representatives requesting the secretary of war to send to the house full information relative to certain statements made in his annual report for 1911, concerning the distribution of the mobile army of the United States in such manner as to involve needless expense and concerning the location and construction of any army posts in such manner as to involve unnecessary initial cost and unnecessary cost of maintenance.

First—the names of all army posts which have been located in their present situation for reasons which are now totally obsolete.

Second—the names of all army posts which have been located in their present situation for reasons which were from the beginning purely local.

Third—the names of all army posts which were originally placed where they are with reference to possible Indian troubles and the names of such of these as may be placed where such troubles are now no longer possible.

Definite action will undoubtedly be taken soon in this matter, and it is safe to predict that 50 or more army posts will be abandoned. During the discussion in the house an instance of local protest in connection with the abandonment of Fort Wingate was cited from the chief of staff as follows: "We have cut out Fort Wingate; we just got out of it. Fort Wingate is near the mining town of Gallup, N. M., which is filled with hardy miners, but they make a strong plea as to the danger from the Navajo Indians. We have taken away the garrison there, and they put up quite a strong fight on that proposition."

The chief of staff says further: "I was just using Fort Wingate as an illustration. Here is a region strong enough in men to wipe the Navajos off the face of the earth. Of course the only real objection is that the trade of two companies of cavalry and of this little post is being lost to that section."

Congressman Helm, of Kentucky, in suggesting that numerous small posts be disposed of, referred to Fort Wingate as follows: "One little post—Fort Wingate, N. M.—that has a capacity of only two troops of cavalry requires an upkeep amounting to $50,000 a year."

The numerous question of economical housing the United States troops is going to be taken up after the holidays and given considerable attention.

EUROPEAN POWERS
WORKING FOR PEACE
Renewal of Triple Alliance
Planned When War in Tripoli Ends

Rome, Italy, Dec. 26.—An exchange of communications between the Italian foreign office and the chancellors of other European powers in connection with the renewal of the triple alliance, the subject of the communications being the renewal of the triple alliance between Germany, Austria, Hungary and Italy also is being discussed.

Efforts are being made both by the government in Constantinople and the Italian foreign office to find a possible basis for the conclusion of peace between the two countries.

In connection with the triple alliance, it is conceivable, might even result in the withdrawal of Italy from the alliance and consequent strengthening of the triple alliance between Great Britain, France and Russia.

The Italian ambassador in Berlin is now in Rome where he is giving a verbal answer to the foreign minister, the marquis Di San Giuliano as to the disposition of Germany.

TWO LADS LOSE
THEIR EYESIGHT
Christmas Rifle and Roman Candle Injure El Paso and Alpine Boys

Joseph R. Segall, Jr., 8 year old son of J. R. Segall, of Savannah street, Highland Park, was shot in the right eye in the third of the year of his home, Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock by a Mexican boy of about his own age.

The boys had been playing with an air rifle when the Mexican pointed the rifle at the other child and pulled the trigger, the ball striking him in the right eye. He was removed to a hospital and it is feared that he may lose the sight of the eye. An X-ray examination is being made to determine the location of the bullet.

Frank Mangum, 8 year old boy of Austin, Tex., was brought to El Paso Tuesday morning. He was shot in the right eye with a Roman candle while celebrating Christmas at home. He will lose the sight of the eye.

DEMAND THE IMMEDIATE ELECTION AND INAUGURATION OF A PRESIDENT.

Shanghai, China, Dec. 26.—As no reply has yet been received by Tang Shao Yi to his dispatch to premier Yuan Shi Kai, pointing out that the acceptance of the idea of a republic is the only means of securing peace, the revolutionaries are demanding the immediate election of a president, the president, and asking that the government shall be proceeded with without any further notice being taken of Peking.

NATIONAL ASSEMBLY URGED BY PREMIER

The conference held yesterday between Dr. Sun Yat-sen, the proposed president, and Wu Tingfang, the chief of the revolutionary delegates at the peace conference, resulted in a compromise agreement regarding the future of the republic and the revolutionaries are now showing a more united front than ever.

Nanking is regarded as a suitable place for the capital of the new republic.

Premier Yuan Shi Kai's decision to submit the proposal of the meeting of the national assembly to decide on the future form of government in China to the consideration of the Manchukuo on becoming known here caused considerable satisfaction. According to the revolutionary leaders in Shanghai, premier Yuan Shi Kai's consent is tantamount to the admission that he himself favors a republic.

It is understood that Tang Shao Yi, who is representing premier Yuan Shi Kai here, had already informed the revolutionary leader at the peace conference that Yuan Shi Kai personally was in favor of the republic.

Shao Yi now admits that Yuan Shi Kai is in full agreement with the revolutionary plan and is only seeking to compromise regarding the future treatment of the imperial clan and the Manchukuo people, and also to avoid an outbreak in Peking when the final announcement is made.

When Tang Shao Yi had fully realized the true situation in the south he telegraphed to premier Yuan Shi Kai suggesting that an edict should be issued leaving the decision as to the form of government to the people of China through a national convention.

To Be Purely Formal.
The leaders of both parties here say the convention will be purely a formal affair. There can be in their opinion no question regarding the result of such a convention, which they assert can be called together within 30 days.

The present situation, it is said, is a revolutionary one, and the revolutionary leaders, who fully anticipated every detail of the plans is already complete for further outbreaks. The revolutionaries are now showing a more united front than ever.

Massacre Not Referred to.
The main trouble occurred last Sunday when the killed at Reishi are said to be 100. The revolutionaries, however, make no reference to these casualties and 2 reports from the Russian consul at that point state that order is now restored, although he is preparing for further outbreaks.

The strategic point of Tabriz, 350 miles to the northwest of Teheran is another center of constant collisions between Russian and Persian. Another dispatch says that Russian artillery except the street, while another through Russian soldiers says a condition of anarchy exists even, the banks being without adequate guards.

STEAMERS FOUNDER
IN BAY OF BISCAY
English Steamer Sinks With 16; Spanish Vessel With
All on Board

Glasgow, Dec. 26.—The British steamer Guillemot, from London, for Genoa, founded in the bay of Biscay on December 21. The captain and 15 of her crew were lost.

Seven survivors were picked up by the British steamer, and a number of the crew were rescued. The Spanish vessel, however, was lost with all on board.

Before the Lincoln was able to proceed to her assistance the Spanish vessel had foundered with all hands.

The Guillemot belonged to the General Steam Navigation company of London. She was a 1,000-ton vessel, built at Campbelltown in 1898.

IMMUNITY PLEA IS SPRUNG BY PACKERS
Judge Carpenter Refuses to Allow Plea to Fit the Present Case

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 26.—When the trial of the 10 Chicago meat packers under indictment for criminal violation of the Sherman law was resumed before United States district judge Carpenter, counsel for the defense sprang a surprise move by presenting a plea of immunity to the government by reviewing the famous immunity plea by which seven of the packers escaped possible conviction several years ago.

Judge Carpenter said that he had passed on practically the same question when he denied the plea of immunity at the beginning of the trial, and he said he was not disposed to change his decision unless some new facts were raised.

Albert H. Vander, attorney for Swift & Co. since the organization of the corporation in 1885, was the first witness called by the government.

ARRESTS EXPECTED
IN JUAREZ CONTEST
Legislature Orders Prosecutions on Fraud Charges in Election

Prosecutions may follow the investigation of the municipal election, which has been carried on for the last two weeks by the city council in Ciudad Juarez. The Chihuahua state legislature has ordered the judge of letters to the city to carry on the investigation further and he has not yet disposed of the matter.

It is believed that the investigation will be carried on for some time, and that arrests may be expected in the near future.

RUSSIAN FRONTIER
SURVEYED BY JAPS
Mukden, Manchuria, Dec. 26.—It is reported here that Japan has carried out a complete survey of the Russian frontier since last June. Russian officials are, in consequence, insisting the Amur and Trans-Baik provinces should in future be closed to Japanese officials. A Japanese official was recently admonished and expelled.

RUSSIA SENDS TROOPS TO TABRIZ

Reinforcements Are Rushed to Persian Capital Fully Equipped.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN REPORTED KILLED

Julfa, Persia, Dec. 26.—Another large force of Russian troops of all arms left their encampment today in the vicinity of Ispahan for Tabriz. The reinforcements consisted of three additional regiments of rifles, three squadrons of Cossacks and two mountain batteries, all at war strength.

American Consul at Tabriz, stating the entire American colony was assembled on Christmas day and that every one was well, and that the government had heard nothing from Persia.

Officials attribute the lack of reports from Tabriz to the fact that the government is being kept informed by the press dispatches.

Five Hundred Massacred.
London, England, Dec. 26.—A massacre has been going on in Reishi since Saturday, according to official Persian telegrams received in London. These state that on Sunday 500 Persians were killed by the Russians, many of them being women and children. The people have been exterminated not to fight and the massacres still continue. Reishi is the capital of the province and has 4000 inhabitants. The government buildings have been bombarded and many government officials and police have been killed. Private houses have been demolished.

According to dispatches the Russians killed four unarmed Armenians in the Armenian quarter of the Tabriz during the fighting in that city.

The people of Persia, says a dispatch, are expressing their indignation at the Russian and the outrageous treatment accorded them by Russian troops.

Marital Law at Teheran.
The proclamation of marital law at Teheran following the dismissal of W. Morgan Shuster by the Persian cabinet and fragmentary reports received as to bloody massacres by Russian soldiers at Reishi are causing serious apprehension. Little additional information regarding the reported massacre has been received.

The surrender of Gen. Reyes at Linares, Nuevo Leon, yesterday, it is believed here, marks the end of the most perplexing problem yet brought before the Madero government. Seemingly, all over the country recently have been following the end of the military leader of the country.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

PEOPLE DID NOT RALLY TO HIM

His Men Run When the Fed-
erals Fire and the General
Ends His Fighting.

ADMITS THAT HE HAD NO RECRUITS

Says He Thought the People Wanted Madero Un-
seated, So He Led Them.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 26.—American consul Garrett at Nuevo Laredo, and consul general Hanna at Monterrey, Mexico, today confirmed to the state department the surrender of Gen. Reyes near Linares.

Mexico City, Mex., Dec. 26.—The end of the week will see Gen. Bernardo Reyes, who surrendered last night to the Mexican authorities at Linares, occupying a cell in the penitentiary of the federal district in the portion set apart for political prisoners.

An order that he be brought to the national capital was transmitted today by the minister of the interior to Gen. Trevino, commander of the third military zone at Monterrey.

Gen. Reyes was sent to Gen. Trevino at Monterrey a request for trial in some place other than Monterrey, the city from which he ruled Nuevo Leon as governor for many years. It is the only favor the fallen rebel has asked, and he is believed that it is not improbable that the central government, to which his petition was referred, will grant it.

The surrender of Gen. Reyes at Linares, Nuevo Leon, yesterday, it is believed here, marks the end of the most perplexing problem yet brought before the Madero government. Seemingly, all over the country recently have been following the end of the military leader of the country.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

Reyes' attempt to overthrow Madero, however, failed, and he fled to Linares, Nuevo Leon, and in the state of Tamaulipas. He requested consideration for the fugitives, who will be hunted down by the government.

Reyes' Late History.
President Diaz recalled him when the Madero revolution became serious, but before Reyes reached Mexico Diaz had been forced to resign. Reyes then allied himself with Madero, and served to strengthen his position. In the latter cabinet, when it should be formed, later he became satisfied that Madero was not sincere with him and decided to run for the presidency himself, and Madero released him from his acceptance of the cabinet place.

PERSONER, DAYS PEACE TERMS ARE REACHED

Gen. Bernardo Reyes,
a Government Prisoner

PEOPLE DID NOT RALLY TO HIM

His Men Run When the Fed-
erals Fire and the General
Ends His Fighting.

ADMITS THAT HE HAD NO RECRUITS

Says He Thought the People Wanted Madero Un-
seated, So He Led Them.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 26.—American consul Garrett at Nuevo Laredo, and consul general Hanna at Monterrey, Mexico, today confirmed to the state department the surrender of Gen. Reyes near Linares.

Mexico City, Mex., Dec. 26.—The end of the week will see Gen. Bernardo Reyes, who surrendered last night to the Mexican authorities at Linares, occupying a cell in the penitentiary of the federal district in the portion set apart for political prisoners.

An order that he be brought to the national capital was transmitted today by the minister of the interior to Gen. Trevino, commander of the third military zone at Monterrey.

Gen. Reyes was sent to Gen. Trevino at Monterrey a request for trial in some place other than Monterrey, the city from which he ruled Nuevo Leon as governor for many years. It is the only favor the fallen rebel has asked, and he is believed that it is not improbable that the central government, to which his petition was referred, will grant it.

The surrender of Gen. Reyes at Linares, Nuevo Leon, yesterday, it is believed here